

answered by the many. I counted fifteen tracts written by Dr. Furry's daughter, Miss Rena Furry. Do as I did, send 25 cents for sample copies. I am sure it will pay you. Dr. Furry's address is United Charities Building, 4th Ave., and 22nd St., New York City. May God bless him in his great and blessed work, and God will bless such work.

SPEAKING OF TRACTS.

Reminds me of our work during Moody's meeting. We seized the opportunity and scattered the little white leaflets and did our part toward letting a little sunshine in. One day, that is morning and afternoon, we put out about five thousand tracts, handed them out to that many individuals. In this work I ask no one to do what I would not do myself, and I stood on one side of the Auditorium exit, and Wright stood on the other side, and we touched about five thousand as near as we could estimate. Mrs. Hamilton gave one to a lady in the street car. She passed it after reading to another. Again it was read and passed to another, and the third party read it and put it in her pocket. So it goes. Who can tell what will spring up from such planting. It pays, I know it. We have the evidence with us, all around us. Martin Luther threw an ink bottle at the devil one day. We have been using printer's ink right along, and I know we have the evidence that the old rascal has been hit some hard blows. I tell you, brethren, it pays, and if some of you preachers would quit grunting and growling, and scatter tracts and make tracks it would pay better all around. Indeed it would.

OUTGROWTH OF SIN.

An old distiller told me there was something devilish about whiskey. He said you could barrel it as tight as staves could make it yet it would work out. So sin will work out. There is something devilish about it, and in a city of this kind where extremes meet it can always be seen working. Only a block from us an aged couple committed suicide. After living seventy years in the world they left it by their own hands—sad. In another part of the city a little boy two and one-half years old heated a poker red hot and burnt out his baby brother's eyes. Where did he get that tendency? The church seeks to kill sin and develop purity, yet her workers are misunderstood. At a meeting of Chicago's unemployed laborers the church was bitterly denounced; the general organizer said: "Over $50,000,000 goes annually into the coffers of the church and every cent of it is wrong from the working man simply to keep alive the superstitions that enslave you." After getting applause from five hundred Bohemians and Germans the following resolution was adopted: "We look upon the so-called Christian church of to-day as the greatest and most influential foe of humanity's onward march." Talk about a foreign work, it is needed, but look at home, how much is it needed here. Come, try and work among these people, and a mission will be open that will tell on both shores. Preach, pray, practice.

THE INOCULATION NEEDED.

There has been a smallpox scare in one of our schools. An eighteen year old pupil had the dread disease, and the physicians were kept busy vaccinating men, women and children living in that district. Five thousand people went through the ordeal of having their systems poisoned to fight poison, and five thousand more were waiting for the scratching and bleeding and putting in the virus. All this to fight off a disease, yet there are things loose here in this city that are more deadly than the smallpox, and they are permitted to do business. Any thing for cash seems to be the practice in many quarters, yet there is something money can not buy. Money cannot buy a good name; nor a good reputation; nor a good character; nor a good influence; nor a seat in glory; nor a right to the tree of life. There is only one inoculation we should desire and seek after and have, and that is the Spirit of God, not the froth of men's opinions, nor the thin theories that evaporate from so many pulpits, but the Spirit of God that fills and thrills, and dynamites for service. That is the kind of inoculation that tells, that counts, that pushes out, that brings success, and oft-times it is only obtained after the night passes, and morning rays come, and the angel's touch is felt.

WORK BEFORE US.

The possibilities are so great here, and the work has crowded on us in such a way that we must make use of these golden opportunities. Our tent work will soon commence, and we have a splendid location for it. It will take something to seat it. This tent we want to make a feeder to the church. To get it on the proper basis Brother Barth and I are going to make a little tour among the people who love to see God's cause move onward. There are always some who will help in one direction who will not in another, and those who will help in this direction are the ones we are after. Then too, I want our brother to get acquainted with our people and see our church homes. All preachers who will give us their churches for a night or two drop a postal and let us know. Do this soon, for time is precious and we want to be about our Father's business; his business demands haste. Brethren, we are doing the work you gave us to do, now help us do it. Some special points about the mission will be opened up in my next.

JOHN DUKE MCFADEN.

235 S. Campbell Ave., Station D.

AUBURN, IND.

BRETHREN EVANGELIST:—I am reading your valuable paper. I always look for the church news first, for I like to hear of the progress throughout the brotherhood. We are holding the fort. We will stand at the post of duty, fighting life's battles till the victory is won.

Brother C. F. Yoder of Warsaw, came over on March 28, and held ordination services. Brother Arthur Wirick was ordained to the ministry. Brother Wirick has charge of the class here. After the ordination services, Brother Yoder preached for us. Our Sabbath-school was reorganized on last Sabbath. We are starting out with good interest; have organized a C. E. Society, which will be a great help to the church. Our young people are taking great interest in church work. Will have baptismal services in the near future. Have quite a number of applicants. We will build a new church this coming summer. Will locate near Auburn Junction and my prayer is that God will so prosper us, that we may succeed in our undertaking, that the Auburn class may be a mighty power in rescuing souls and in building up our Father's kingdom.

CAL GRUBE.

NORTH LIBERTY, O.

Everything is moving along nicely. Brother S. B. Grisso baptized nine more last Saturday, one more to be baptized soon and four have confessed Christ since our protracted meeting closed. Hope the good work may continue. Eighteen have united with us by baptism and two by letter since Brother Grisso is with us. Our Sabbath school was reorganized the last of March, and we hope our brethren and sisters will all take an active part in our Sabbath school.

ALICE GRUBB.

Don't think you can do anything worth doing in a fit of enthusiasm, but train yourselves carefully to any work that you are called on to do carefully, or to train carefully for, that is for the good of your fellow-creatures.—Florence Nightingale.